With over 2,000 lakes, 93,000 miles of rivers and streams, and 115 named mountain ranges, Idaho offers some truly breathtaking scenery. As a result, visitors from across the country come to experience it firsthand, attracted to its ski resorts, horseback riding ranches, and river rafting outfitters that showcase this natural beauty. Still looking for your next unforgettable vacation destination? These seven Idaho towns will take your breath away.

McCall

Situated along the southern shores of Payette Lake, McCall is an excellent destination for those who want to spend their vacation on the water. Travelers can start their lake adventures by hopping on a kayak or paddleboard with McCall Sports, a local outfitter in the downtown area. If you prefer to explore the lake at an even more relaxed pace, consider signing up for a cruise with McCall Lake Cruises. This company, which has been operating in the community since 2012, offers several excursion options, including 90-minute, narrated cruises, sunset cruises, and special holiday cruises. Concluding your day on the lake, unwind for the evening at Shore Lodge, a luxurious hotel with direct lake access that has amenities like a heated pool, hot tub, theater, fire pit, gym, mercantile, and much more.
